Fear of Infection in Long-Term Care Facilities Highlights Value of In-Home Plans

Lakewood, OH April 16, 2020 -- Like many people, you may envision long-term care insurance paying for care in a nursing home or other care facility. However, "there are plans that may also cover care in your own home," says Denise Gott, OH-based agent with ACSIA Partners LLC.

That may give you greater control over with whom you come in contact, "but you need to choose your policy with care," Gott adds.

Gott points out that long-term care insurance comes in many forms, and not all of them are ideal for home care. "There are two broad categories of policies," Gott says, "reimbursement policies and cash policies. With a reimbursement policy you submit bills for approval and subsequent payment, which is usually made to a facility. With a cash policy, you get monthly benefit checks that you can use however you wish. This gives you greater freedom in hiring services and controlling your daily interactions."

As a certified long-term care insurance agent, Gott also advises on other planning options, which include:

- "Hybrid" policies (typically life insurance with long-term care riders)
- Worksite long-term care (portable individual voluntary plans with group advantages)
- · Annuities with tax-advantaged long-term care features
- Critical illness insurance
- Additional protections including long-term care education and referrals to top care services
